DAILY GAZETTE.

PLAIN WORDS FOR COLONIAL EARS .-Following the fashion set by the Loudon Best Jobbing Offices Times, the Canadian papers have snarled In the West, and without any superior in Wisconsin at our government ever since the war broke | With our out, and now that the Times draws in its horns they again follow suit and become placable. One Montreal journal finds place for two stinging letters from correspondents in the United States, in which some IN STYLE AND NEATNESS plain words are spoken. Here is the concluding passage of one of these epistles:

"The people that can raise and equip |ed by few. such armies in a year; build an impregnable yessel of war without a model, in a hundred days, and win twenty or thirty victories in the same time, can take care of themselven; and preserve! their national life, their national domain; and their national reputation and prosperity beyond doubt.

"Though not a prophet, I will venture the prediction, that within the lives of some now living, perhaps in yours, sir, this nation, one and inseperable as now, will contain within its borders one hundred and fifty millions of human beings, and not one shave. The result may require some reverses and sacrifices. But it is a necessity and must be accomplished.

"One other prediction: If the Canadians ever again insist on a fight with ns, they will get it. Not that we want Canada or a quarrel; or a reciprocity treaty, either; but that a people so humane and generous PORTE MONAIES, POCKET KNIVES, NUE as ours cannot bear to see a neighbor 'atturly spoiling for want of a fight."

An Officer's Place in Battle,-The correspondent of the Philadelphia Press. writing from the Pittsburg battle field,

I suppose the annuls of war do not show a battle in which so large a proportion of commissioned officers was killed and wounded. Properly, an officer's place is behind his battalion, not exposed to the fire of the enemy. The reason of this is obvious. An officer's life is more valuable than a privates—not only to the army, but to the privater themselves, for the time being, during the battle. Many of the severest casualties of Sunday were owing to the loss of commanders of brigades and regiments .-But our officers are so brave, or rather so 43-111 ou want a painkill. afraid of being considered cowards, that TALLMAN & COLLINS'. they expose themselves unnecessarily .-Many of them do this to encourage the troops, and, with volunteers, this is often necessary; but this thing has now been car- For Cough Candles ried altogether too far, and it is to be hoped that officers will, in future, be more regardinl of their duty, and less mindful of their personal reputation.

The marriege of the Prince of Wales to the daughter of one of the leading gentry of Kildare, Ireland, is insisted on as a fact. The story runs that some six months ago, during a period of military training at the Curragh of Kildare, he "fell in love" and one fine morning, unsuspectingly by his mentors, was married, the clergyman, a brother officer, and a brother of the bride and agno remedy, call at being present. By the Royal marriage act, TALLMAN & COLLANS. such a union is unlawful. A correspondent

"So wrapped up in this beautiful Irish bride is the Prince, that this journey of his to the East, which was determined upon be-brush, show brush, scrub brush, white wash brush or fore the Prince Consort's death, was suggested by the latter as a means of weaning him from his foolish attachment. But noth ing will do; the young Prince's "heart, untraveled, fondly turns towards a certain old mansion on the confines of the Curragh, and which holds what is dearer to him than his future crown—the fair object of his thoughts almost daily receiving a letter from under her youthful and Loyal lover's hand."

Massachusetts teachers at Port Royal give encouraging accounts of their educational enterprise among the contrabands. The Boston Journal, noting the substance of these communications, says:

"The negroes are busily employed in planting cotton, corn and potatoes, laboring cheerfully for alight pecuniary rewards, and manifesting a tractable, obedient and deferential spirit, which has deeply impress-CONGS in Many Keys, by Holmes; Cecil Dreems, by Winthrop; unother large invoice of Lessons in Life, by Titeomb, together with a large assortment of popular Books, Toy Books, Juvenile Books, &c.

> EMBALMING THE DEAD,-A Washington correspondent gives the following account of the process of embalming adopted there: The body is placed on an inclined platform, the mouth, ears, nose, &c., are stopped with cotton; if wounded, cotton is put in the wound, and a plaster is put on; an incision made is in the wrist, the attachment is made from an air pumb, and fluid inject. ed from the arteries. The wound is then sewed up and the body hoisted up to dry. To save the eyes from sinking in, wex is put under the eyelids. The hair I found to come out very easy, but after the embalming it could not be removed. The bodies take on an average about seven quarts. There was some eight bodies on hand; some had been there thirty days. The operators say in four months the body will become

> The general rule for the weight of caunon is that they shall be one hundred times heavier than the shot it propels. A navy 64-pounder weighs 180 times as much as one of its shot. The English wrought iron 12 inch gun, of Horsfall's, is 170 times heavier than its shot. The Rodman 15 inch gun weighs 150 times more than its shell, and 114 more than its solid shot. The projectiles fired by the Monitor were 11-inch shell, with a small cavity, and very thick walls, weighing 169 pounds, and 931 of them weighed as much as the gun.

PLAIN WORDS FOR COLUNIAL EARS .-Following the fashion set by the London Best Jobbing Offices Times, the Canadian papers have snarled in the West, and without any superior in Wisconsin at our government ever since the war broke out, and now that the Times draws in its horns they again follow suit and become | we are enabled to execute any order for work with a placable. One Montreal journal finds place for two stinging letters from correspondents in the United States, in which some IN STYLE AND NEATNESS plain words are spoken. Here is the concluding passage of one of these epistles:

"The people that can raise and equip such armies in a year; build an impregnable vessel of war without a model, in a hundred days, and win twenty or thirty victories in the same time, can take care of themselves, and preserve their national life. selves; and preserve their national life. their national domain, and their national now living, perhaps in yours, sir, this na-tion, one and inseperable as now, will contain within its borders one handred and fit ty millions of human beings, and not one slave. The result may require some reverses and sacrifices. But it is a necessity and must be accomplished. "One other prediction: If the Canadians ever again insist on a fight with na, they will get it. Not that we want Canada or a quarrel; or a reciprocity treaty, either; but that a people so humane and generous as ours cannot bear to see a neighbor 'nt turly spoiling for want of a fight."

correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, writing from the Pittsburg battle field

I suppose the annals of war do not show a battle in which so large a proportion of commissioned officers was killed and wounded. Properly, an officer's place is behind his battalion, not exposed to the fire of the enemy. The reason of this is obvious. An officer's life is more valuable than a privates—not only to the army, but to the privates themselves, for the time being, during the battle. Many of the severest casual-ties of Sunday were owing to the loss of commanders of brigades and regiments.-But our officers are so brave, or rather so afraid of being considered cowards, that they expose themselves unnecessarily,---Many of them do this to encourage the troops, and, with volunteers, this is often necessary; but this thing has now been carried altogether too far, and it is to be hoped that officers will, in future, be more regardful of their duty, and less mindful of their personal reputation.

The marriage of the Prince of Wales to the daughter of one of the leading gentry of Kildare, Ireland, is insisted on as a fact. The story runs that some six months ago, during a period of military training at the Curragh of Kildare, he "fell in love" and one fine morning, unsuspectingly by his mentors, was married, the clergyman, a brother officer, and a brother of the bride and ague remedy, call at being present. Massachusetts teachers at Port Royal give encouraging accounts of their educa ional enterprise among the contrabands. The Boston Journal, noting the substance of these communications, says:

"The negroes are busily employed in planting cotton, corn and potatoes, laboring cheerfully for slight pecuniary rewards, and manifesting a tractable, obedient and deferential spirit, which has deeply impressed the white teachers who are striving to fit them to take care of themselves. some plantations they had planted sufficient corn to meet their own wants before the government undertook to direct their labors. Some of them are very intelligent in practical matters, and manage the affairs of the plantations to which they belong with much skill. They all manifest an eager desire to learn to read, and make excellent progress. Old negroes, sixty or seventy years of age, press forward to be

The funeral of Gov. Harvey took place in Madison yesterday afternoon, and was a selemn as well as an imposing ceremony, belitting the character and station of the deceased, and appropriately testifying the public and private loss in his death. A large portion of the 19th regiment was detached to assist in the ceremonics, the hearse conveying the remains of the deceased bore the insignia of mourning usual | if it were not done, he told mo that I on such occasions; all the state officers were in attendance; the various civic societies were well represented; the firemen of the city, in uniform, with their banners and other emblems draped in mourning, were in the procession, and citizens on foot and in carriages contributed to the impressiveness of the mournful speciacle.

The religious ceremonies at the grave were conducted by the Roy. Mr. Kinney, of this city, who made a brief, but very ap- ed to saw off about an inch more of the proprite address, characterised by the deep feeling the occasion was so well calculated nies will be a great disappointment to hundreds who desired to be present and unito in a last tribute of respect to a man so honored and beloved as Gov. Harvey. When it was supposed the funeral was to take place to-day, arrangements for a special train, at half-fare, from this place, to return in the evening, had been made, and if the circumstances had permitted the completion of this arrangement, hundreds of the citizens of Rock county, (the home of the late Governor,) would have been present. It was deemed proper, however, to suddenly change the time, and the mournful satisfaction of attending his remains to their last resting place was denied to many who had long enjoyed his friendship while living, and were deeply afflicted in his untime-

We commence the publication, to-day, of the report of the committee on the conduct of his own, the 14th regiment, but of the war, on the atrocities perpetrated by other regiments. This witness testifies of the game, leaving you in possession of tween Williamsburg and Richmond, and that the rebel dead were carried off and inthe rebels upon our prisoners, and the remains of the dead. We shall continue the whether the confederates themselves were publication until the report is finished, as we desire that our readers should know, from official sources, the character of the He received none of the attentions from the enemy against which we contend.

There can be no doubt of the fact that the rebels are the most cruel and remorseless of men. This is their general characteristic, to which there are few exceptions. The testimony given before the congressional committee is not a tithe of what exists. The very recent outrage upon the laws of civilized warfare in concealing torpedoes in and about their camps, when about to retreat, shows that they are devoid of manly and generous feeling. This plan of assasinating our soldiers was so generally carried out by them upon leaving Yorktown, that careless, heartless, and cruel manner in azine doors are forbidden to be opened, for many persons were killed and wounded before our soldiers could be cautioned against them, and it shows that it must have been known to their military commander, and is and entirely naked. It is no doubt true that they are lapsing into barbarism, from the influence of the terrible and baneful institution to which they cling with so much pertinacity.

If it were not for the effect of prejudice and prids of opinion, we think all men in the north would now confess that it is

The Barbarism of the Rebels.

The committee on the conduct of the war have made a report on the subject of the barbarities committed by the rebels at Manassas on the bodies of Union soldiers who fell at that battle. The committee give ample evidence to sustain all the previous allegations. The report shows that the most inhuman acts were perpetrated by committee have the honor to report that they examined a number of witnesses, whose testimour is herewith submitted. Mr. Nathaniel F. Parker, who was captured at Falling Waters, Virginia, testifies that he was kept in close confinement, denied exercise, and, with a number of others, huddled up in a room: that their food, generally scant, was always bad, and sometimes nauseous; that the wounded had neither medical attention nor humane treatment, and that many of these latter died from sheer neglect; that five of the prisoners were shot by the sentries outside, and that he saw one man—Tibbits of the New York 27th regiment—shot as he was passing his window, on the 8th of November, and that he died of the wound on the 12th. The perpetrator of this foul murder was subsequently promoted by the rebel govern-

New York or Brooklyn regiment, captured at Bull Run, testifies that when he solicited permission to remain on the field and to attend to wounded men, some of whom were in a helpless and painful condition, and suffering for water, he was brutally refused. They offered him neither water nor anything in the shape of food. He and his companions atcod in the streets of Manassas, surrounded by a threatening and boisterous crowd, and were afterwards thrust into an old building and left, without austenance or clothing, to sleep on the bare floor. It was only when faint, and without food for twenty four hours, that some cold bacon was gradgingly given to them. When, at last, they were permitted to go to the relief of our wounded, the secession surgeon would not permit them to perform operations, but entrusted the wounded to his young assistants, " some of them with no more knowledge of what they at tempted to do than an apothecary's clerk.' And further, "that these inexperienced surgeons performed operations in a most horrible manner-some of them were absolutely frightful." "When," he adds, "I saked Doctor Darby to allow me to amputate the leg of Corporal Presentt, of our regiment, and said that the man must die should be allowed to do it." While Dr Homiston was waiting, he says a secession ist came through the room and said, "They are operating upon one of the Yankee's legs, up stairs." "I went up and found they had cut off Prescott's leg. The assistants were pulling on the flesh on each side, trying to get flap enough to cover the bone. They had sawed off the bone without leaving any of the flesh to form the flaps to cover it, and with all the force they could use they could not get flap enough to cover the bone. Gen. Kicketts, in reference to his having been held as hostage for the privateers, states: "I considered it bad treatment to be selected a hostage for a privateer, when I was so lame that I could not walk, with my wounds still open and unhealed. At this time Gen. Winder came to see me. He had been an officer in my regiment; I had known him for 20 odd years. It was on the 9th of November that he came to see me. He saw that my wounds were still unhealed; he saw my condition; but that very day he received an order to select hostages for the privateers, and, notwithstanding he knew my condition, the next day, Sunday the 10th of November, I was select ed as one of the hostages. "I heard," he continues, " of a great ma-

The Mutual Life Insurance Company

STATE OF WISCONSIN, Presents advantages in all respects equal, and in some superior, to those of other companies doing business in the northwest. Its rates, its plan of operations, and its basis, are identical with the best companies in this country and Europe. Its age, and consequently its accumulations, are not equal to theirs in amount, but in proportion to the age of risks, and amount at risk, they will compare favorably with the most

Its assets, which have resulted solely from the accumulations of three years, amount to $86,881.20, and its annual That is a singular decision of Judge income, from policies now in force, over $65,000.

> Its assets and business are constantly increasing. Its losses have been promptly paid. Its trustees are well known, bonorable business men, and are as capable of managing an institution of this kind, as men in any other portion of the United States. The experience of the company thus far proves that we can have as reliable companies in the west as any where else, if we will, and self-interest certainly indicates that we should have them, and build up home interests in every practicable way. In the above respects, this company claims equality with its co-workers, and in the following superiority: It obtains the greater portion of its business in the healthiest portion of the United States, thus having the advantage of a less per centage of loss; it receives higher rates of interest on its investments. thus making more rapid accumulationsboth very important items in Life Insurance; and its expenses have been less in proportion to its business than any other new company doing husiness in the United States.

Nothing Later from Halleck.

All news is contraband up the Tennessee river. It is nearly a week since anything definite has been heard from our army What does it mean? Is Corinth evacuated? Has there been a battle? These are the universal enquiries.

Funeral Ceremonies.

The funeral of Gov. Harvey took place ce Madison yesterday afternoon, and was a solemn as well as an imposing ceremony, befitting the character and station of the deceased, and appropriately testifying the public and private loss in his death. A large portion of the 19th regiment was detached to assist in the ceremonics, the tached to assist in the ceremonics, the tato the leg of Corporal Prescott, of our hearse conveying the remains of the de- regiment, and said that the man must die ceased bore the insignia of mourning usual on such occasions; all the state officers were in attendance: the various civic socisties were well represented; the firemen of the city, in uniform, with their banners and other emblems draped in mourning, were in the procession, and citizens on foot and in carriages contributed to the impressiveness of the mourtiful speciacle.

The religious ceremonies at the grave The religious ceremonics at the grave could use they could not get flap enough were conducted by the Rev. Mr. Kinney, of to cover the bone. They were then obligthis city, who made a brief, but very approprite address, characterised by the deep faeling the occasion was so well calculated to inspire.

The change in the time of these ceremonies will be a great disappointment to hunireds who desired to be present and unite | remedy it by performing another operation in a last tribute of respect to a man so honored and beloved as Gov. Harvey. When it was supposed the funeral was to take place to-day, arrangements for a special train, at half-fare, from this place, to return in the evening, had been made, and if the circumstances had permitted the completion of this arrangement, hundreds of the citizens of Rock county, (the home of the late Governor,) would have been present. It was deemed proper, however, to anddenly change the time, and the mournful satlefaction of attending his remains to their last resting place was denied to many who

The Barbarities Committed by the Rebets.

We commence the publication, to-day, of the report of the committee on the conduct | not only of his own, the 14th regiment, but of the war, on the atrocities perpetrated by the rebels upon our prisoners, and the remains of the dead. We shall continue the publication until the report is finished, as we desire that our readers should know, from official sources, the character of the enemy against which we contend.

There can be no doubt of the fact that the rebels are the most cruel and remorseless of men. This is their general characteristic, to which there are few exceptions. The testimony given before the congressional committee is not a tithe of what exists. The very recent outrage upon the laws of civilized warfare in concealing torpedoes in and about their camps, when about to retreat, shows that they are devoid of manly and generous feeling. This plan of assasinating our soldiers was so generally carried out by them upon leaving Yorktown, that careless, heartless, and cruel manner in many persons were killed and wounded before our soldiers could be cautioned against them, and it shows that it must have been of the Union soldiers unburied on the field, The evidence is accumulating which rid sight. known to their military commander, and is and entirely naked. So general an effect must have a universal, all-pervading cause, and we have so doubt this is the influence of slavery. It is no doubt true that they are lapsing into barbarism, from the influence of the terrible and baneful institution to which they cling with so much pertinacity.

If it were not for the effect of preju lice and pride of opinion, we think all men in the north would now confess that it is right to contend against the spread of slavery, and that our salvation as a free republic depends upon its total destruction.

A majority of conservatives, (gentlemen who are opposed to "burting any body,") have been appointed on the confiscation committee in the senate.

The Barbarism of the Rebels.

The committee on the conduct of the war have made a report on the subject of the parbarities committed by the rebels at Manassas on the bodies of Union soldiers who fell at that battle. The committee give ample evidence to sustain all the previous allegations. The report shows that the most inhuman acis were perpetrated by mond were buried in the negro burying committee have the honor to report that they examined a number of witnesses, whose testimony is herewith submitted. Mr. Nathaniel I'. Parker, who was captured at Falling Waters, Virginia, testifies that he was kept in close confinement, denied exercise, and, with a number of others, haddled up in a room; that their food, generally scant, was always had, and someimes nauseons: that the wounded had ucither medical attention nor humane treatment, and that many of these latter died from sheer neglect; that five of the prisoners were shot by the sentries outside, and that he saw one man-Tibbits of the New York 27th regiment—shot as he was passing his window, on the 8th of November, and that he died of the wound on the 12th.

THE REPORT. In pursuance of the instructions, your

The perpetrator of this foul murder was mbsequently promoted by the rebel govern-Dr. J. M. Homiston, surgeon of the 14th New York or Brooklyn regiment, captured at Bull Run, testifies that when he solicited permission to remain on the field and to attend to wounded men, some of whom and suffering for water, he was brutally refused. They offered him neither water nor nis companions stood in the streets of Manassas, surrounded by a threatening and boisterous crowd, and were afterwards thrust into an old building and left, without sustenance or clothing, to alsep on the bare floor. It was only when faint, and without food for twenty four hours, that some cold bacon was grudgingly given to them. When, at last, they were permitted to go to the relief of our wounded, the secession surgeon would not permit them to perform operations, but entrusted the wounded to his young assistants, " some of them with no more knowledge of what they at tempted to do than an apothecary's clerk."

And further, "that these inexperienced surgeous performed operations in a most horrible manner—some of them were abso-lutely frightful." "When," he adds, "I asked Doctor Darby to allow me to ampuif it were not done, he told me that I should be allowed to do it." While Dr. Homiston was waiting, he says a secession

The same witness describes the suffering of the wounded after the battle as incon ceivably horrible; with bad food, no cover ing, no water. They were lying upon the floor as thickly as they could be laid.—
"There was not a particle of light in the house to enable us to move among them. Deaf to all his appeals, they continued to refuse water to these suffering men, and he was only enabled to procure it by setting cups under the caves to catch the rain that was falling, and in this way he spent the night catching the water and conveying it Thus closed the last public testimonials had died during the night." He also states that after he himself had been removed to Rich-mond, when sested one day with his feet on the window-sill, the sentry outside called to him to take them in, and on looking out he saw the sentry with his musket cocked and pointed at him, and withdrew in time to save his life. One of the most important witnesses was Gen. Jas. B. Ricketts, well known in Washington and throughout the country, lately promoted for his during and self-sacrificing courage. After having been wounded in the battle of Bull Run, he was captured, and as he lay helpless on his back, the rebels passing him cried out, "Knock out his brains, the — Yankee." He met Gen. Beauregard, an old acquaintance, only a year his senior at the United States military

The statement of other witnesses as to how the prisoners were treated is fully confirmed by Gen. Rickets. He himself, while in prison, subsisted mainly upon what he purchased with his own money, the money brought to him by his wife. "We had," he says, "what they called ba-con soup-soup made of boiled bacon, the being a little rancid-which could not est; and that for a man whose system was being drained by a wound is no diet at all." In reply to a question whethcr he heard anthing about our prisoners being shot by the rebel sentries, he answered: "Yes, a number of our men were sho.t In one instance two were shot; one was killed and the other wounded by a man who rested his gun on the window sill while he capped it."

Gen. Ricketts, in reference to his having been held as hostage for the privateers, "I considered it had treatment to be selected a hostage for a privateer, when I was so lame that I could not walk, with my wounds still open and unhealed. At this time Gen. Winder came to see me. He had been an officer in my regiment; I had known him for 20 odd years. It was on the 9th of November that he came to see me. He saw that my wounds were still very day he received an order to select hos s for the privateers, and, notwithstanding he knew my condition, the next day, Sunday the 10th of November, I was select ed as one of the hostages.

One was named Lewis Francis, of the New York 14th. He had received 14 bayonet wounds-one through his privates and he had one wound very much like mine, on the knee, in consequence of which his leg was amputated after 12 weeks had passed; and I would state here that in regard to his case, when it was determined to imputate his leg, I heard Dr. Peachy, the rebel surgeon, remark to one of his young assistants, 'I wont be greedy; you may do it; and the young man did it. They having but a small support of infantry were overwhelmed by a superior force and were compelled to abandon their guns, but before the close of the day this battery, with one of the enemy's was frecaptured by Gen. McClellan, and the prisoners they had taken were found in Williamshurg, next day, engaged in at-tending on the wounded the enemy had left The retreat of the enemy was accompanied by too much confusion and baste o be troubled with prisoners.

LATEST .- I have just learned that the enemy have destroyed all the bridges across the Chickshominy and that General McClellan is resting his army on this side. It will be remembered that the Chickshominy runs parallel with the James river, into which it enters. It is the general impression that Gen. McClellan has now

Special dispatch to the Chicago Times CAIRO, May 7.

There has been no arrival to-day from Pittsburg, and hence there are no later advices than those sent last evening. The late order of Gen. Halleck that no steamer shall leave the Landing until after the battle, may have something to do with the non-arrival of steamers. At any rate, it is now, as it has been for the whole of the past week, atterly impossible to ascertain what is going on at Corinth. army may have occupied the position late. ly held by the rebels; a battle may have been fought, and our army now on its way to Memphis, for all that is known here. It had long enjoyed his friendship while living, and were deeply afflicted in his antimetry ly death.

Our army was prepared for action at least a week ago, and at last reliable accounts was gradually advancing upon the onemy's entrenchments. That was on Mon-day. What has transpired since is merely a matter of conjecture.

At Pittsburg Landing passengers were not allowed to leave the boats, nor are per sons permitted to pass from the army to the steamers. Thus Halleck's whole army is shut out from communication.

I learn from a private letter that, on Sunday last, a singular development was made respecting the enemy's works. A reconnoitering party, sent out by General Pope, suddenly found itself directly in front of a rebel battery, planted on the opposite shore of a small creek. Being too close boys are getting sick of this damned place, rebels withdrew during the night, or else the steep, across the creek, up the ascent, and the hospital likewise, so good bye for a that our troops are awaiting the arrival of and the battery was taken. The astonished for retreat, the party boldly charged down gunners fled in dismay, leaving the victors to examine their plunder. The guns were ncooden.

The rumor of the evacuation of Corinth and its occupation by our forces is repeated by every arrival of deserters. There is no doubt that Beauregard, while holding his forces in line of battle, is gradually falling back on Grand Junction. seeks to avoid a general battle, though frequently offered him by Gen. Halleck The opinion gains ground that there will be no goneral engagement between the two armies at or near their present position.

Gov. Yates and party have not yet been permitted to land at Pittsburg. Gen. Halleck was notified that they were at the landing, and desired to go ashore. The general facetiously replied that he had old women enough there.

PADUCAR, May 7-1 P M. Five more of Curtis' Horse came into town yesterday afternoon. Sergeant Brainard was among them, and from him we learn that the Union scouling party consisted of 120 men, under command of Major Shaffer, and that they were completely surprised by Jeff. Thomson's cavalry near the state line while eating their supper Monday night. His impression is that Major Shaffer was killed, together with some others of the command, and others taken prisoners;

fifteen arrived on Monday night, President Lincoln arrived here this morning, and spent the day with Gen. Wool. This afternoon he visited Newport News came in. This morning a fresh arrival came in of six men. The surprise is unaccountable, as the command were perfectly aware that this large force of rebel cavalry was only eight miles distant from them

Last night at eight o'clock, when the train left Mayfield, 25 miles distant, a body of 1,000 cavalry were within three miles of that place. Two regiments of infantry, the 60th and 62d Illinois, arrived this morning from Cairo, and are encamped in this city.

SECOND DISPATCH.

We are informed by Willard Merrill, Esq., the Janesville agent of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of Wisconsin, that on the 30th of January last, Governor Harver insured his life in the Wisconsin company for one thousand dollars, which has been already paid by the company to Mrs. Harvey. The Governor thought of insuring $5,000, but concluded to take only $1000 hen, and increase it this spring, but had not done so when he died. The promptness of the company in the payment of this loss is another evidence that it is entitled to the confidence and patronage of the people.

That is a singular decision of Judge Swayne's, Mr. Lincolu's newly appointed judge of the supreme court. Having decided that a traitor is not a public enemy, he will, probably, next decide that no treason has been committed by the rebels-that it is merely a large riot, the actors in which must be indicted, before arrest and punishment. This would be conservatism "gone to seed."

REPORTED ARREST OF COL. MALONY .-We learn from a private letter from Lawrence that news had been received there from Fort Riley, that Col. Malony of the 15th regiment, had been arrested, on charges made by Dr. Evans, for striking a sick soldier. A Hopseul Sign .- Wall street was jubi-

STATE OF WISCONSIN, Presents advantages in all respects equal, and in some superior, to those of other companies doing business in the northwest. Its rates, its plan of operations, and its basis, are identical with the best companies in this country and Europe. Its age, and consequently its accumulations, are not equal to theirs in amount, but in proportion to the age of risks, and amount at risk, they will compare favorably with the most successful.

Its assets, which have resulted solely from the accumulations of three years, amount to $86,881.20, and its annual income, from policies now in force, over $65,000. Its assets and business are constantly increasing. Its losses have been promptly paid. Its trustees are well known, honorable business men, and are as capable of managing an institution of this kind, as men in any other portion of the United States. The experience of the company thus far proves that we can have as reliable companies in the west as any where else, if we will, and self-interest certainly indicates that we should have them, and build up home interests in every practicable way. In the above respects, this company claims equality with its co-workers, and in the following superiority: It obtains the greater portion of its business in the healthiest portion of the United States, thus having the advantage of a less per centage of lose; it receives higher rates of interest on its investments, both very important items in Life Insurance; and its expenses have been less in proportion to its business than any other new company doing business in the United States. S. S. DAGGETT, President.

A. W. Kellouc, Secretary. H. G. Wilson, General Agent.

The company has a large number of lives insured in Janesville. Applications for in-surance received by the agent, Willard Merill, at his law office in Lappin's block.

In accordance with the proclamation of Gov. Saloman, the places of business were generally closed and a goodly number of our citezens assembled in the Baptist church, on Thursday, May 1st. After the reading of the governor's proclamation, a prayer and reading of a portion of scripture, by the Rev. O. P. Hull, an eloquent discourse was delivered by the Rev. B. King, and the following preamble and resolution were adopted:

WHEREAS, In the providence of Almighty God, our late Governor, Louis P. Harvey, has been removed from our midst in the full vigor of his manhood, with the highest honors of his state clustering around him. and while in the performance of self-imposed duties which will shed a brighter lustre around his name than the brightest military glory. Therefore Resolved, That we as citizens of Milton.

while we would bow in humble submission to the ordering of an allwise Providence, deeply mourn our loss as a people, and would most respectfully tender our heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved family of the late Governor, and to the sick and wounded Wisconsin soldiers in whose service he lost his life.

From the Eighth Regiment.

Camp of Plummen's Brigade, Miss., 1 Monday, April 28, 1882. DEAR MOTHER: - When last I wrote to you I was on board the transport steamer McClellan, then laying at Cairo taking in coal. Now, where are we? I answer way down in the state of Mississippi, in the land of secession and treason. Yesterday morning we were in Tennessee; to day we are in Mississippi. About twelve miles in front of us lies the rebel atronghold, Corinth. Three miles ahead of us are the rebel pickets, and in about four miles the first rebel fortification. Behind us and on both sides of us lies our army. Both sides of the way for the last three miles that we traveled, last night, was strewn with trees that the rebels had fell across the road to impede our progress; Col. Bissell's engineer regiment has cleared the way so that things are all right now.

The second day after we landed in this section of the country, orders came from headquarters for two companies of the 8th Wiscousin to take two days' rations in their haversacks and report for duty immediately. The companies chosen were G and B. We reported as quick as possible, and with four companies out of two other regiments. under command of the major of the 26th Illinois, we went out on picket. The six companies were divided up into three reliefs and posted. Eighteen hours out of twenty four we were on duty. The line of pickets of our army, of which we were a part, extended 13 miles east and west .--Think of that, ye Janesvillians! Thirteen miles of pickets-that will make quite au army-say 10,000 men; behind them over 100,000 more. There goes a volley of musketry; wonder what it means? Probably a little skirmish between the pickets; probably a conpany firing off their muskets; whatever it is, it is all right; we are ready for them.

Yesterday there was a skirmish two or three miles beyond this place, between Yates' sharpshooters of Illinois, and a body of zehels. There were three rounds fired on both sides. "Nobody hurt," that I know Probably before this reaches you Corinth will be ours. Beauregard says that he has got 100,000 men, and is going to eat us up or "die in the last ditch." He has got the ditch dug; it is two feet wide by six feet long. You have heard of his "last ditch:" that is the exact dimensions, taken by an eye witness.

No more this time. Write soou. "HANK."

Correspondence of the Jonesville Gazette. From the Thirteenth Regiment.

FORT RILEY, April 29th, 1862. We arrived at this place Sunday afternoon, and camped two miles from the fort on the prairie, near the Kansas river, which has the same appearance that it did at Lawrence; the water looks muddy, but the streams emptying into it are clear running brooks, with gravelly, stony bottoms. We left nearly 100 sick at Lawrencefour men died there: D. H. Whittlesey, of company A; Wm. Johnson, company A; Stephen West, company D, from Union, Rock county; Adam Aris, company B, from Harmony, and Amos S. Miller, from Edgerton, of company B, died at Fort Scott. Whittlesey gave his residence at Janesville. on the descriptive list, and has a brother with us who is still at Lawrence. Johnson, town; the buildings are mostly built of brick and stone. It contains about 800 inhabitants. It was settled by free state people principally. Tecumseh, eight miles east of it, a better site for a town, was gettled by pro-slavery men, but is going back. The buildings are deserted, mostly, and will be known in a short time among the places that were.

We camped four miles from Topeka, near a small village, called Indianolia. The third day, we crossed the Pottawattomie Indian reserve, which is 20 miles square, and s one of the choicest spots in Kansas. We valley, over a road nearly as level as a touse floor, and camped about 3 o clock in the afternoon.

We passed several Indian and half breed residences; these houses were built of hewn logs; had old fashion rail fences, eight and nine rails high, staked and ridered at that. The following day we marched 18 miles to Rock creek, a beautiful stream. Where we crossed it was a solid rock bottom, four rods wide, the water six and eight inches deep. There is a good water power there—the only one I have seen in Kansas; a little place just started there by the name of Louisville.

It is a good site for a town. The next day we marched 10 miles; passed the village of Manhattan, which contaiued about 30 dwellings, a large stone public house, two large stores, two churches and a large school house, all stone buildings. The dwellings were mostly wooden buildings. The country around was quite rough and broken, with considerable lime stone along the bluffs.

The sixth day we murched about 16 miles; had four ambulances, which was something that we never had before, to carry those who were weak and fatigued. The only thing that looks like going to New Mexico is the order for captains to make out requisitions for clothing and omfits for a six months campaign. Most of the officers seem to think that we shall remain here a month at least. L. BEACH.

The Leavenworth Conservative of the 1st, ears:

Gen. Mitchell left here yesterday for Fort Riley. He is confident that the New Mex-ico expedition has not been abandaned.— His forces will move forward in three columos, the first marching on the 12th of this month. The weather is very favorable for the march, and forage can now be found in AB-Correspondents will please write their names distinctly. It is all important that we should in each case know the post office, county and state.

All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their size, prices, working capacities, and the best incthods of purchasing, can obtain it by sending to us, or any of our Branch Offices for a copy of

I. M. SINGER & CO.'S GAZETTE.

The public have been awindled by spurious machines made in imitation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well.
They are hid away in secret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a gr. at business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The best designed machines, Badly Made, are always hable to get out of order, and are single to considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair.

The qualities to be looked for in a machine are: certainty of correct action at all rules of speed, simplicity of construction, great durability and rapidity of operation, with the least labor. Machines to combine the secon-with the least labor. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be quade of the best metal and finished to perfection. We have the ways and means, on a grand scale, to do this.

The purchasers of machines, whose daily bread it may concorn, will find that those having the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slow retree of speed, but last long in the fluest possible working order. Our machines, as made by us, will carn worr money with less tabor than any others, whether in imitation of ours or not. In fact, they are cheaper than any other machine as a gift.

THE want of an authorite and theraugh litting preservation, is the subject of general remarks. No work of that mature has yet been offered to the public, and all who wish for information are compelled to grope through the mazes of the rumors, reports, disputches, tectors and editorials of the duly newspapers to precipies, from its confined columns, the great facts and incidents of the duly them. its confused columns, the great access the armygle for the Union.

To meet this want and to preduce a work of permanent value as well are a person thereof, the publisher has arranged for the issue of the binory as above as forth-in a form and at a price which shall render it deceptable to all.

In the Story as Irris, giving a clear and action—in a form and at a price which shall render it acceptable to all.

This history will tell the Store as it is, giving a clear, consecutive narrative of the entire movement, beinding all the incidents and events in their exact ordering all the incidents and events in their exact order, and containing the important decuments and extracts from remarkable speeches. It will not be nucrealizing, nor a mere submeration of dry and taked date, nor a sampilation of slips from newspapers, but will portray in connected and interestinguarrative, therevolutionary steps, as well as the measures of the government.

It will carrel by direct all evidence—will aff all rumors and reports—will fix upon facts, and correct so far as possible the errors and discrepancies incident to the hasty instruction of the newspapers.

It will be written in a style subted to life them—at once graphic, carrell and localizing such personal and social incidents as may serve to show the relations of individuals and communities to the exact events of the time.

relations of individuals and communities to the grand events of the time.

It is true, everylody reads the newspapers, but the reports of the newspapers are the frequentiary and contradictory children of the moment, and not a correct, connected and complets history. The above publication, afterwards bound in a handsome volume, will be a book for the family, which will be valued like the recards of the War of Independence, or the Life of Wardington, and worthy to be kept for children and grand-children, as a momental of the present time.

It will thus prove desirable, available and satisfactory to very critizen, every family, every office, every library and is given to the public in the full assurance that it will command the approbation of every patriots every Union man, every good citizen in our still diorious Cand.

We have made the above Reduction in Prices with the two fold view of benefiting the public and carselves. The public have been swindled by spurious machines made in initiation of ours. The metal in them, from the iron casting to the smallest piece, is of poor quality. Their makers have not the means to do their work well. They are hid away in scoret places, where it would be impossible to have at their command the proper mechanical appliances. It is only by doing a great business, and having extensive manufacturing establishments, that good machines can be made at moderate prices. The bost desligaed machines, Bally Made, are aways liable to get out of error, and stragge to cost considerable trouble and money to keep them in repair. The qualities to be locied for in a machine are: creatily of correct action at all rates of speed, simplicity of continuation, great durability and rapidity of operation, will the last slater. Machines to combine these essential qualities, must be made of the het metal and finish do prichages of machines, whose daily bread it may concorn, will find that those baving the above qualities not only work well at rapid as well as slate rates of speed, but last long in the fluest possible working order. Our mechines, are made by us, will carry more money with less later than any others, whether is distingt orders or not. If fact, they are cheaper
